

THE UNITED STATES DECLARES FOR WAR.

President McKinley Signs the People's Ultimatum! Spain Must Free Cuba or Fight! No Delay or Diplomacy Wanted Now!

DIPLOMACY YIELDS TO WAR.

The President Will Present the Ultimatum of Congress to Spain immediately.

SPANIARDS ARE READY TO FIGHT.

Are Not Daunted by the Action of Congress and Still Clamor for War With This Country.

IMPORTANT WAR ORDERS ARE ISSUED.

Will Fortify Porto Rico and Form Another Flying Squadron, Thousands of Men Enlisting.

WAR IS EXPECTED BEFORE MONDAY.

Washington, April 19.—The president will sign the Cuban resolutions and ultimatum this afternoon. It is believed Spain will get three or four days' grace, in which she can accede to the demands of congress and avert war. Spain's answer will have to be clear and distinct if she hopes for peace.

The warlike situation here today is such as to please the most radical friends of Cuba.

Washington, April 19.—Speaker Reed and Vice President Hobart signed the Cuban resolution before noon. They were then hurried to the President who will sign them immediately.

Madrid, April 19.—The action of the American Congress in passing an ultimatum has produced intense excitement throughout Spain. But there are no indications that the government will yield. Orders have been issued for reinforcing the port of Porto Rico and for the formation of another squadron. Enlistment offices have been opened all over Spain and volunteers are pouring in by the thousands. War is here regarded as a certainty before Monday.

Washington, April 19.—At 12:07 p. m. yesterday the Senate resolution was received in the house and read, the Democrats applauding when the recognition clause was read. After the reading of the resolution Mr. Dingley moved to concur with an amendment striking the recognition clause, and then moved the previous question. After some parliamentary sparring the House voted by yeas and nays on the Dingley motion to concur with the Senate in the amendment, but striking out the Cuban independence recognition. The motion carried by a vote of 179 to 156.

The actual form of the motion, which was reduced to writing, was as follows:

"I move to concur in the Senate amendment to the joint resolution with an amendment striking out the first paragraph, the words 'and' and also the words 'and that the government of the United States hereby recognizes the republic of Cuba, as the true and lawful government of that island,' so that the first paragraph of the Senate amendment will read as follows:

"First—That the people of the island of Cuba of right ought to be free and independent."

Washington, April 19.—After one of the hardest fought battles of the two houses known in many years, congress has come to an agreement upon the most momentous question it has dealt with in a third of a century. Its provisions mean the expulsion of Spain from the island of Cuba by the armed forces of the United States.

The first conference showed a determination on the part of the house not to yield a single point and it was only after a long consultation with house leaders that they agreed to allow the little words—'and'—in the first section of the senate resolution, which declares that the people of Cuba are and of right ought to be free and independent. The resolution as finally adopted is that reported from the senate committee on foreign relations, with the addition of the fourth section known as the Teller amendment disclaiming any intention on the part of the United States to acquire Cuba.

THE ARMY MOVING.

Washington, April 19.—The contracts for the transportation of troops have all been made and today the army intended for Cuban occupation is on the move. The crack cavalry regiment, the Sixth, which is stationed across the river opposite this city, will march this evening. They will pass through this city, and great crowds will throng Pennsylvania avenue to cheer the initial military movement from here.

Major General Miles will start for Atlanta tonight to assume active command of the army in the field. He will choose his headquarters at once. He will be accompanied by his three aides, Micheler, Morse and Davis.

There is much interest felt here as to the disposition of General Lee. Lee will take the field. The president will appoint him a brigadier-general of volunteers, if congress does not authorize the president to appoint him to the regular army.

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt is set in his purpose to resign his post and take active service in the field. General Lee will ask the New Yorker to become his chief of staff, with a rank commensurate with the post he gives up. Roosevelt is an ardent admirer of Lee, and his friends believe he will accept the post as chief of staff to the Virginian.

BISHOP POTTER FOR PEACE.

New York, April 19.—Bishop Potter presented a set of resolutions against war at the meeting of the Central Labor Union Sunday night. They were defeated by a vote of nearly 2 to 1. The resolutions were signed by the bishop, Ernest H. Crosby, Wm. Dean Howells, Bolton Hall, Charles F. Adams and John C. Crosby.

The resolutions are a masterly arraignment of war and a plea for peace, but they failed to stem the tide of patriotism.

They say the destruction of the Maine is a question of fact and should be left to arbitration; that the cruelty and oppression of the poor in our own land equal that in Cuba; that war will add only suffering to both Cuba and the United States; that a Cuban republic would be more cruel and oppressive than the Spanish rule; that the speculators would make money while the workingmen of the two nations shot each other down, and that a foreign war would interfere with the great battle for industrial peace, which is more important.

STAND BY THE PRESIDENT.

Senator Dubois and Congressman Pugh Say He Is Right.

Washington, April 19.—"It is quite manifest," said Congressman Pugh, "that the President's position as to the Cuban question is growing in favor among the members of congress, as well as with the people in general. Gravely sensible of the weight of responsibility resting upon him, to divert, if possible, and upon an honorable basis, the horrors attending a bloody conflict with a foreign power, he framed his indignant in diplomatic terms, clearly implying the immediate and permanent freedom of the Cubans from Spanish

THE ULTIMATUM TO SPAIN.

The Resolutions Agreed Upon by the House and Senate That Will Be Signed by the President Today.

Whereas, The abhorrent conditions, which have existed for more than three years in the island of Cuba, so near to our own borders, have shocked the moral sense of the people of the United States, have been a disgrace to Christian civilization, culminating as they have in the destruction of a United States battleship with 266 of its officers and crew while on a friendly visit in the Harbor of Havana, and cannot longer be endured, as has been set forth by the President of the United States in his message to Congress on April 11, 1898, upon which the action of Congress was invited. Therefore

Resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled:

First—That the people of the island of Cuba are and of right ought to be free and independent.

Second—That it is the duty of the United States to demand, and the Government of the United States does hereby demand, that the Government of Spain relinquish its authority and government of the island of Cuba, and withdraw its land and naval forces from Cuba and Cuban waters.

Third—That the President of the United States be and hereby is directed and empowered to use the entire land and naval forces of the United States and to call into the service of the United States the militia of the several States to such an extent as may be necessary to carry these resolutions into effect.

Fourth—That the United States hereby disclaims any disposition or intention to exercise sovereignty jurisdiction or control over said island, except for the pacification thereof, and asserts its determination when that is accomplished to leave the government and control of the island to its people.

dominion. His conservative and courageous utterances will live long after those who have sought to distort his meaning and to question his patriotism, have been forgotten."

Senator Dubois says: "I sustain the President's views, and I think it was wrong to recognize the present government of Cuba, because we hardly know enough about it. However, I voted for the passage of the resolutions, because I am satisfied that Spain blew up the battleship Maine; also because of her treatment of the people in Cuba. Even at this time I think the house resolution, better of the two. I think the president has been treated very ungenerously by some senators, as well as the press."

DEFENSES COMPLETED.

Mobile Harbor Mined With Gun Cotton, Dynamite, Etc.

Mobile, Ala., April 19.—Defenses of the channel and harbor here have been completed. The whole bar channel is mined with gun cotton and dynamite and hundreds of torpedoes are placed at irregular distances a mile from the fort, which is now the most strongly fortified position in the gulf. It will be connected by telegraph with Mobile and by cable with Fort Gaines, whence the wire will lead to the city along the shore. An attempt was made by the government officers to purchase the present telegraph line from Fort Morgan to Mobile, but failed, and the new line was commenced on Western Union poles today.

TO THE FRONT.

Washington, April 19.—The auxiliary force of invasion will be made up of Southern troops. Secretary Alger, at a conference with army officials yesterday, so decided.

The present plan is that the army of invasion and occupation shall consist of the regular army, reinforced by the National Guard from the Gulf and South Atlantic States. This decision was reached, inasmuch as it is believed that the Southern men will be better able to withstand the danger of the climate of Cuba. The militia from the Northern and Western states will be scattered along the statement that the offer was made by a man showing authority of the Cuban Junta. He told the members that the offer was accompanied with a guarantee that a bank would pay fifty cents on the dollar when independence was recognized.

ALMOST LOST.

The Big State of Kansas Saved by Her Pilot Sunday.

The State of Kansas, which passed here Friday, had a close call at Tell City, Ind., Sunday. The Evansville Tribune thus tells the story:

"The passengers and crew of the steamer State of Kansas stood upon the decks yesterday afternoon at Tell City, and with blanched faces saw the boat driven to what seemed inevitable destruction. A hundred spectators stood upon the wharf and waited breathlessly for the steamer to be ground to splinters by the rocks which lie along the shore.

"The escape of the steamer without a scratch was little less than miraculous. Yesterday when the boat was lying at the wharf at Tell City a strong wind was blowing toward the shore. Just above the wharf is a number of straggling rocks which have always been a terror to steamers. When the boat attempted to leave the wharf and push up stream she was caught broadside of the strong wind and dashed against the wharfboat. Upon the second attempt she succeeded in clearing the wharfboat only to be driven against the reef near the bank. Just as her nose was about to crash into one of the projecting rocks the wind slackened for a moment. The pilot took advantage of the lull, whistled for a full head of steam, whirled the wheel to starboard and the gigantic boat slowly drifted out to the current and off the reef which would have meant her destruction had it not been for one minute's stalling of the wind.

"The experience of the State of Kansas yesterday goes a good way to show that large and unwieldy freight boats are not practical and will soon be forced to give place to the smaller and more easily handled boats.

THE MESSAGE MEANT WAR.

What Senator Lindsay Thinks of McKinley's Great Document.

Col. Thomas W. Campbell, of Louisville, is in receipt of a letter from Senator William Lindsay in which the latter, among other things, says:

"The message of the president, though regarded as in the interest of peace, was in effect a war message, and is being so treated by congress. Before the end of this week our relations with Spain will be absolutely severed, and hostilities may commence at any time."

This letter was dated at Washington April 14, 1897.

OFFERED A BRIBE.

EVERYTHING IS NOW READY FOR WAR.

Washington, April 19; 3:00 p. m.—The president says he will send the ultimatum to Spain tonight or early tomorrow morning.

Washington, April 19.—The Spanish Minister Bernabe y Polo has everything packed and will leave this city this afternoon on his way home.

Washington, April 19.—Everything is a bustle and a stir in army and navy circles here today. The action of Congress means that war is certain and sure. Only Spain can avert it, and that only by a complete acceptance of the terms of the ultimatum. It is not believed here that Spain will yield.

It is confidently believed that war will be formally declared before Saturday noon.

Washington, April 19.—3 p. m.—The President may not sign the Cuban resolutions until tonight. But they will go to Spain tomorrow sure. Spain's answer is expected Thursday.

This afternoon Spain's attitude is fearless and her leading officials declare that they will refuse all demands of America. Should she remain firm until Thursday, war will ensue and be declared this week.

Newport, Ky., April 19.—This city is today wild with enthusiastic patriotism.

When the troops from Fort Thomas left this morning for the South their passage through the city was a triumphal march. They were showered with flowers, while the police force and the bands of the city joined in the parade.

All the schools, colleges and places of business in the city were closed and the people turned out en masse to cheer the departing soldiers. Nothing like the demonstration has ever been seen in this city before.

SAD SUICIDE.

A Pretty Young Kentuckian Takes Carbolic Acid in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, April 19.—Pretty Miss Annie McAfee, of Danville, Ky., committed suicide at the St. Clair Hotel this morning in this city.

She swallowed carbolic acid and then took morphine. Unrequited love is the supposed cause.

The deceased was a beautifully dressed and lovely girl, and was a member of one of the best families in Danville.

A RECEIVER.

Stockholders Ask One for the Paducah Baseball Association.

Messrs. M. Bloom and other stockholders of the Paducah Baseball Association this afternoon filed suit in the circuit court against the other stockholders to have the court appoint a receiver for the association, in order to wind up its business.

The petition recites that the association has an outstanding indebtedness of about $1,800, with only about $600 assets. The latter consist of park, grand stand, bats, etc., and $150 due the association from Central League.

The petitioners ask that the association go into the hands of a receiver, the unpaid stock collected, and its affairs wound up.

COMMERCIAL CONVENTION.

The Kentucky State Commercial Convention to be held in Louisville May 11th and 12th is a most important step taken in the right direction. No state in the Union has more to gain by concerted action along the lines of commercial development than has the State of Kentucky. Nature gave the state a geographical location that secured for her an early settlement, and by the choicest set of pioneers that ever laid the foundations of an American Commonwealth. Kentucky's remarkable position in American history, her large roll of honored names, including, as it does, brilliant stars in every walk of public life, is due solely to the excellent quality of the blood that coursed through the veins of her early settlers. The character of those brave people who blazed their way through Kentucky's forests and chose the ever-famous Blue Grass section has imparted a character to Kentuckianism that has justly made it a matter of pride to be a native of the state or even a citizen by adoption.

The peculiar location of the state, however, has operated against her commercial development. Hemmed in as she is by mountain ranges and high rivers, the path of commercial development from the East to the West passed north of Kentucky; and, from the East to the South, to the east of the state, thus leaving Kentucky to a great extent out of the great "booms" that built up the West and in late years have transformed the commercial aspect of the South. Added to these natural causes, may be the facts that the Blue Grass portion of the state has been distinctly agricultural, while those parts of the state, especially adapted to manufacturing and mineral development, have been almost inaccessible until the last few years. These latter facts produced apathy in the Bluegrass region and despair almost everywhere else in the state.

Kentucky has, however, thoroughly awakened to the fact that she is one of the richest states in the whole Union, not alone in fertile soil, but those natural resources of coal, timber, clays etc. that go to make up the raw material used in manufacturing. Railroads have been built, undreamed of coal mines have been developed, and the state's vast timber resources have been liberally drawn upon. Cities and towns have sprung up, furnace and steel plants have been built, with the minor industries that follow such large plants. In fact Kentucky can truly be said to have entered upon a prosperous career of manufacturing development.

Much, however, remains to be done. No concerted effort has yet been made to bring the wonderful resources of the state before the investing public. The attitude of the state towards new comers and new enterprises has not been of that hearty and cordial nature that is calculated to attract the homeseeker and investor. The idea, has gone forth, unwittingly it is true, that the outsider does not meet the enthusiastic welcome in this state that he does even in some states farther to the South.

For these reasons we believe the coming Commercial Convention at Louisville is a move in exactly the right direction. While, perhaps, the immediate results will be most particularly to the advantage of the city of Louisville, the Convention cannot help but be of vast importance to the State. What benefits Louisville must benefit the State at large. Every new manufacturing plant located in Louisville but increases the demand for the agricultural, mineral or timber products of the State. Furthermore, every new plant located in Louisville, turns the eyes of the investing world not only to Louisville, but to the whole State. Louisville is the commercial center of Kentucky. The whole State should take a laudable and an enthusiastic pride in her growth and development. Louisville's prosperity cannot but be contagious, and we would hail with unfeigned pleasure the day that she becomes the commercial metropolis of the whole Southwest.

The Commercial Convention should also be of great ultimate advantage to Paducah. This city has unrivalled advantages in all lines that go to make a successful manufacturing and commercial city. As a location for manufacturing enterprises she is unsurpassed. There is hardly a manufacturing enterprise in the whole state that could not have prospered here with equal success. We look for the coming Commercial Convention to impart some of its enthusiasm to the business men and property holders of Paducah and that she will become in fact what she is entitled to be by reason of the many advantages resultant from her splendid location,—not only the Pride of the Purchase, but one of the Queen cities of the South.

M'KINLEY A STATESMAN.

New York Herald, (Independent.)

The tone of the President's message is warlike, but conclusions are peaceful. All things considered, the President has taken a step for peace. He stands with a drawn sword. It is for Spain to say whether the blow shall fall.

While peace hangs on the horizon, no matter how low, we must do homage to peace. We cannot fight an unjust or hasty war. First use all means to conciliate. Failing in that, all means to crush. The nations speak the voice of humanity. As one of the brotherhood of nations we at least must pause and heed.

To have declared war, to have whirled a proud, martial, angry people into war, to have precipitated, like Polk, a policy making war inevitable, would have been a blunder. Let us applaud the courage which dared to stand erect and not bow to the passing whirlwind of unreason. War, however truculent, is always accepted. It appeals to a dominant character will honor the wisdom that can see through the storm-swept heavens in this their darkest hour and the courage to still point the way to justice, humanity and peace.

The Owensboro Confederate Veterans' Association endorsed General Fitzhugh Lee and announced their loyalty to the government; and that has happened right under the nose of the Owensboro Messenger, the only paper that we have thus far heard from that has so far forgotten all semblance of decency as to cast a slur upon the honored name of General Fitzhugh Lee.

"Under no circumstances will the Democratic party take up Gen. Lee, a gold bug, for President!" exclaims an excited organ of Mr. Bryan. And that is exactly the situation. If you want to damn a man in the eyes of the free silver monopoly, whatever his services to his country or his innate ability may be, just say that he is a gold bug.

THE COMMANDER OF THE ARMY.

Portland Oregonian.

Gen. Miles' record is that of an exceptionally gallant and able soldier. With the single exception of Gettysburg, General Miles participated in every battle of the Army of the Potomac, from Yorktown to the surrender at Appomattox Court House. From September, 1862, until the close of the war he commanded in battle his regiment, brigade, division, and for a short time the army corps to which he belonged, having been wounded four times. He was perhaps engaged in more hard-fought battles than any other general officer of our army, including thirty-five distinct battles, and over 100 serious affairs in which artillery, cavalry and infantry were engaged.

MARRIED AT METROPOLIS.

The wedding of Miss Neale Davis to Judge H. N. R. Brevoort, the latter of Detroit, Mich., will take place at Metropolis Thursday morning at 8 o'clock, and will be one of the most ostentatious weddings ever held there. The bride to be is well known in Paducah, and formerly resided here for several months. The groom is one of the most prominent jurists in Michigan, and has been on the supreme bench. He is a very wealthy and his present to his bride was a $2,000 set of diamonds. The bride's trousseau was made by Worth, of Paris.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

Section 10 of ordinance 30 provides that refuse from market and all other filth and offal in the city of Paducah shall be deposited in the current of the Ohio river not less than twenty feet from the water's edge at the foot of Clay street and not elsewhere. A penalty of not less than $10 nor more than $100 is prescribed for any violation of these provisions.

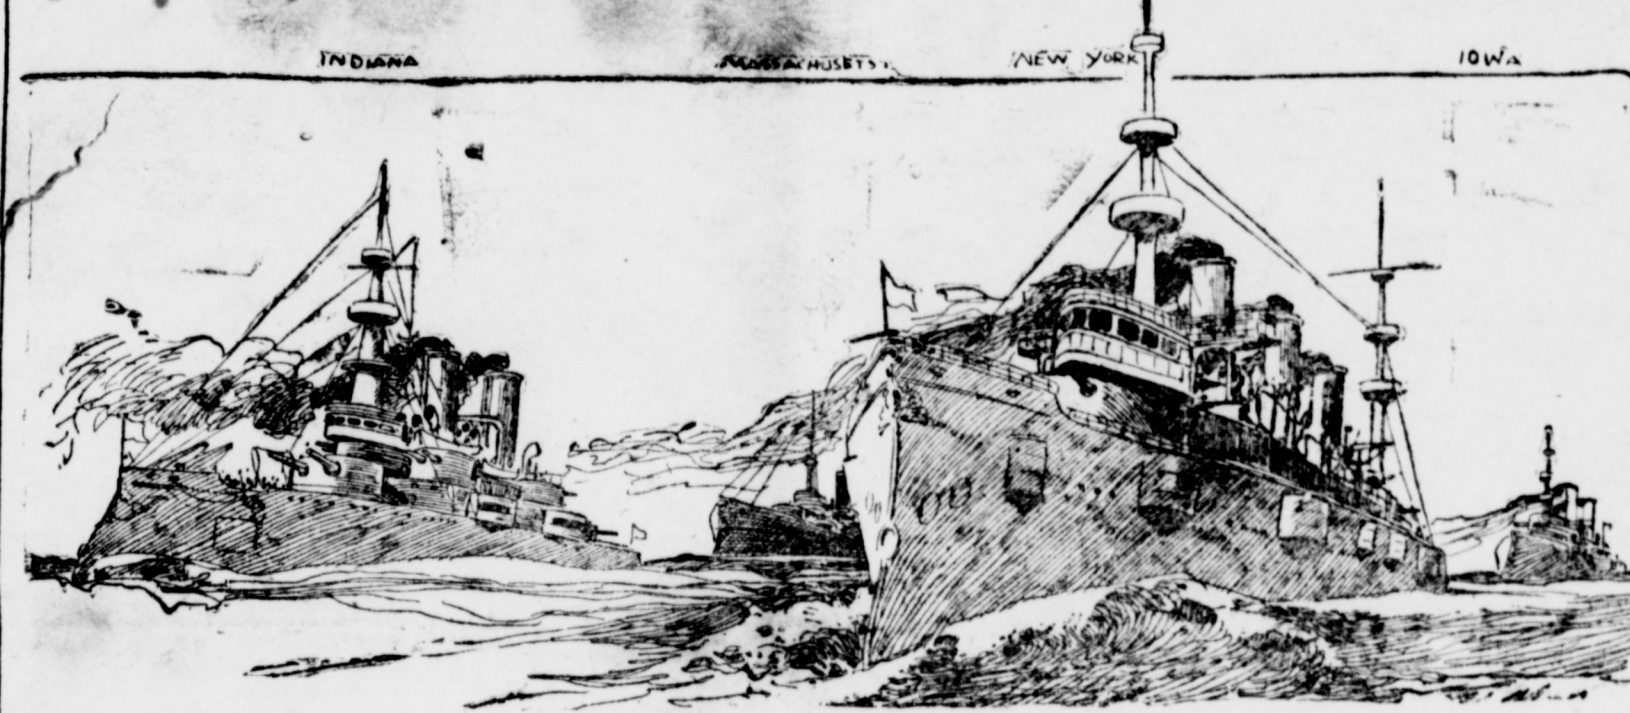

The above includes decayed fruit or vegetables, trash, waste paper, broom clippings, etc. The falling river invites the customary hauling of trash and litter into the bottoms along the river. I warn all parties against this, under penalty of the above ordinance.

THE NORTH ATLANTIC SQUADRON.

Society Notes.

Mrs. Frank B. Leavitt and baby are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Nash on North Ninth street.

Miss Geraldine Sanders is visiting Miss Neal Davis in Metropolis.

Friday afternoon the Paducah Chapter of the D. A. R. will meet with Mrs. Irene Cox.

Captain Len G. Rouse and wife will arrive tonight from El Paso, Tex., where they have been spending several months for Capt. Rouse's health.

Congress met last night at the Y. M. C. A. The war bill was put before the house.

Miss Neal Davis, of Metropolis is to be married soon to a judge of Detroit, Mich.

The fad now is a William Goat. The goat has taken the place of the "Little Lamb." One of the society girls, however, her name is not Mary, had one of these dear little goats for a pet and she was very fond of it indeed, until one day the cute little thing got into her room and seeing conditions of the continental brokers who hold Spain in pawn; whatever the cause, it can only be regarded as an expression of the ascendancy of moral force. Successful war could achieve no more. Now, if the operation of moral force in the Antilles leads to results as fruitful as could be gained by a successful campaign, why, to win what is surely coming, hazard the sombre, desolating arbitrament of war?

There will be disappointment over the President's stand in relation to Cuban independence. True, France recognized our independence, but it was as an act of war against Great Britain. There was no recognition by foreign powers of the South even when it was the South of Lee and Benjamin and Davis, with claims far more impressive than those of Cuba. Civilization deems pre mature recognition of independence to be a premium upon revolt, an invitation to the dislocation of society.

The President speaks like a Christian patriot and acts like a statesman. Today even as yesterday, the sword is drawn and the issue rests with Spain. He will neither falter in the prosecution of necessary war nor in the welcome of peace. Whatever is

This frequently lasts a quarter of an hour and the call responds from all the mountains and rocky cliffs around. When silence again reigns the herdsmen kneel and pray with uncovered heads. Meantime it has become quite dark. Good night, at last calls the highest herdsman through his horn. The words resounded from all the mountains, the horns of the herdsman and the cliffs, and the mountaineers then retire to their dwellings.

Rev. W. E. Cave returned Saturday from a visit to Hopkinsville, where he continued the meeting begun by Rev. Moody.

An entertainment of interest is in prospect for the benefit of the Second Presbyterian church, in which entertainment quite a number of society people will take part. A mock trial will take place in which a breach of promise case will be the most prominent feature of the evening. The best lawyers will argue the case.

A trip to Cairo has been the talk of interest among several of the society couples during the past week. They had in prospect a trip down on the boat and a dance was to have been given in Cairo that evening, but whether the plans will materialize is doubtful, but if they go it will be the latter part of this week.

Mrs. Fred Rudy is entertaining the Cinque club this afternoon at her home on North Seventh street.

Two dances are on the program for this week. One on Thursday evening at the Campbell building, given by the older young men; and one on Friday evening at the same place by the younger set.

The Guild of Grace Episcopal church met with Dr. and Mrs. Cowgill last evening and spent a delightful evening.

The F. B. K. club will hold its regular meeting tonight with the president. "What will we do in case of war" is the topic to discuss tonight.

WRITTEN AT RANDOM.

"There used to be a man out in Marshall county named Jim Dick, related Attorney Jesse Gilbert yesterday, 'who was death on catching all the big words he could for future use. The fact that his education had been neglected to some extent did not deter him in the least, but made him all the more determined in his effort to acquire a good vocabulary."

"They need to tell one story that was pretty good on him. It was that he went over into Illinois once to sell some stock, and when he returned, was very enthusiastic in his reports of the country."

"Well, how do you like the country?" one of his friends asked him soon after his return.

"Fine, fine," he answered. "Best country I ever seen. Way, if ye'd plant a crow bar, ye'd grow spikes and ten-penny nails."

"What's the population of the country?" was the next question.

"The population?" he repeated. "Why, principally hickory, dogwood and pawpaw."

Marshall Collins has a good joke on President Leake and Col. J. Will Fisher, who caught the two horse thieves Sunday and have not yet ceased boasting about it. The culprits were brought to the city and turned over to Marshall Collins, who took them to jail and got the jailer's receipt for them. As the jailer's receipt gave a considerable way toward obtaining the reward, the novice detectives have nothing to back their claims to the reward, the marshal is enjoying a good laugh at their expense, and says they are "dead easy."

He will of course do the right thing, however.

A gentleman from the First district who recently went west, writes back to his friends an interesting account of his experience with a news "bitch" out of St. Louis. It serves to show up some of the latter's little forms of diversion. He says:

"Having boarded a west-bound train out of St. Louis one morning, I began to read the morning papers. Very soon I was deeply engrossed in the many phases of the diplomatic correspondence between this country and Spain. Just as I had arrived at the conclusion that the president was still properly conducting the affairs of the nation, I was interrupted by that particular species of the news 'bitch' peculiar to western roads. He very pleasantly informed me that he wanted change for a five. Being an accommodating individual, I hastened to comply with his request. I gave him the change and he handed me a bill as though it was a five, but which on close inspection proved to be a one. As he was turning away, I called his attention to the mistake(?) After feeling in his pockets and not finding a bill of the required denomination, he gravely informed me that a person in the other coach had beat him out of the bill in making change. Giving me my money, he left and went to another coach, but he never returned with the bill."

"About a hundred miles out that 'bitch' again appeared in all his glory. This time a country man who got on the train a station or two back was selected as the victim. I was sitting near enough to see and hear all that passed between them. The 'bitch' approached the country man, who was about 50 years of age, with the inquiry if he used spectacles. The farmer told him he did. The 'bitch' thereupon drew from his pocket a pair of glasses, whose rims resembled gold and probably cost seventy-five cents a dozen. He informed the farmer that they were pure gold and were worth ten dollars; that some one had left them on the train through forgetfulness and that he had found them. He said the owner had never claimed them and that the farmer might have them for the small sum of two dollars. I believe the farmer would have been victimized if I had not had it in for that 'bitch' and put some hot shot into him that broke up his little game."

"After this incident I settled my self back for a snooze, thinking that the 'bitch' was now suppressed, but no indeed. Later on he arose suddenly with another scheme to rob the innocent and unwary. A youth whose verdant look indicated a soft snap was selected as a prey by our enterprising news agent in blue and brass buttons. Calling to his aid all the nerve and smartness he possessed, which was doubtless acquired by contact with expert confidence thieves, he made his advances towards the youth in a manner that denoted the true artist in his line. This time flattery was the means employed to bring his prey to the point where he was to spring his game. He fed him on flattery, skillfully complimented him on his good looks until the youth thought that if he was not a masher he was the next thing to it. The youth having been worked up to the proper degree of self-satisfaction, the 'bitch' drew out a pin with a South African gem setting and represented it to be as good as a genuine diamond. He assured him that it was just the thing to catch his best girl's eye and he might have it for five dollars. The youth thought this too high but evidently believed it would have a good effect in promoting his interest with Sally Ann. So he made the 'bitch' an offer which was refused. However they at last reached an agreement and the youth bought the pin for two dollars. Poor fellow! He gave a dollar and ninety cents too much. It is to be hoped that Sally Ann was effectively moved by this means to regard his suit more favorably.

"I was truly glad when that 'bitch's' run was out, notwithstanding the business enterprise and push he exhibited. I am sure his present occupation will not hold him long. He has too much business capabilities."

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Lengthy Session Held Last Night.

The Market House Ordinance Amended—Gravel Ordinance Passed.

The city council met last night in called session, all the members being present except Mr. Smith, of the Sixth.

The meeting lasted until nearly 11 o'clock, but nothing of great importance was done.

The market house ordinance was considered at length, and finally amended.

The license ordinance was amended, and other ordinances were passed.

The usual preliminaries were soon over, and the finance committee's report was called.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Chairman Fowler reported the following bills, which were allowed:

Jan. Crow, special police, $9.25.

Frank Baker, special police, $5.50.

Paducah Sheet Metal works, $5.50.

Oak Grove, $23.42.

Miscellaneous account, $34.62.

L. P. Eason, $10.

Lockup keeper, $34.50.

Street inspector, $132.35.

Fowler, Crumbaugh & Co., supplies to the Shawneetown sufferers, $205.94.

The contracts from various corporations agreeing to prosecute no claims against the city in consideration for a release from fifty per cent. of the franchise tax, in case the said tax is declared unconstitutional by the superior court, were read and approved.

ORDINANCE COMMITTEE.

The ordinance requiring the Water company to furnish water to any person tendering the regular amount required by the company, was given second reading. An affidavit from Robt. Waynick was read, stating that he had called at the Water company's office previous to April 1st, and tendered the regular amount of water rent, and that his money was refused, and the water was turned off from his pipes. He alleged that he had never given any one permission to get water from his hydrant, and if any was gotten, it was without his knowledge and consent.

Capt. Fowler stated that he understood that three families were getting water from one hydrant, and the Water company asked that division fences between the houses be built.

Mr. Ezell shared Capt. Fowler's opinion. He did not deem it a matter in which the council had a voice. Attorney Wheeler Campbell addressed the council on the question. The ordinance was lost by a vote of 10 to 1.

U. S. COURT.

H. B. Stepro and Others, vs. In Admiralty, Steamer Beaver.

Whereas, a libel was filed in the district court of the United States at Paducah, Ky., on the 29th day of March, 1898, by H. B. Stepro and J. A. Campbell against the steamer Beaver, her engines, tackle, apparel, furniture and owners thereof, alleging in substance that said steamer is justly indebted to them for services as seamen, etc., in the sum of $200. That said steamer is justly indebted to them in said sum that same has never been paid, and prays process against said steamer Beaver as aforesaid, and that said steamer may be condemned and sold to pay said claims, with costs and expenses.

Now, therefore, in pursuance to the motion under seal of said court, to me directed, I do hereby give public notice to all persons claiming the said steamer Beaver, or in any way interested therein, that they be and appear before the district court of the United States, in the city of Paducah, Ky., on or before the 2d day of May, 1898, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to interpose their claims, and to make their allegations in that behalf.

market wide open to the sale of everything.

Capt. Fowler said that an ordinance could be drawn in five sections to express more than that "moral law" ordinance.

He said he had never forgiven himself for voting for it, and had promised himself, if the opportunity ever presented itself again, he would vote against it. The opportunity had offered itself and he had availed himself of it.

On motion of Mr. Clark the ordinance was reconsidered.

Councilman Ezell said he thought one ordinance could be drawn in a few lines doing away with the whole job-lot. This was an ordinance repealing all ordinances and throwing the market house open to everybody. The ordinance was then given final passage.

The ordinance relative to private sewerage was given final passage.

An ordinance relative to private crossings over gutters was given first passage.

The gravel ordinance was given first reading and passage.

LOUISIANA COMMITTEE.

J. H. Pieper applied for coffee license at Rowlandtown. A protest was filed from the locality. The license was granted.

Clerk Patterson reported that there was no record on the council book that the bond of City Marshal Collins had ever been accepted, although it had been, according to the old council. The proper order was made.

NEW BUSINESS.

The Petter Dry Dock company asked permission to locate its dock in front of the city, between Monroe and Jefferson streets. Referred to the street committee, wharfmaster and mayor, with power to act.

A communication from the Paducah Vinegar works was read, asking that $25 be refunded them for license paid as wholesale vinegar manufacturers for last year. The mayor stated that an officer was sent to the above-named works, and reported back that they were not manufacturers of vinegar, as contemplated by the ordinance exempting manufacturers of vinegar. The request was granted.

Capt. Fowler said he understood the above concerns were manufacturers of vinegar, and to decide this, moved that a special committee be appointed to investigate. It was referred to the relief committee.

Mr. Wilkins asked that his wife be admitted to the city hospital for four or five weeks.

Mr. Elliott said it cost $10 a month to keep her in the hospital, and $8 at the poor house.

She was ordered sent to the poor house.

An old city engineer reported that some difficulty was encountered in changing the tracks of the Paducah Street Railway company, on account of a number of people whose fences extend from three to eight feet in the street, objecting to the poles being placed inside their yards. The property is owned by them, extending to what was formerly the gravel road. The matter was referred to the street committee and mayor.

A poster was read from property owners on South E event street between Husbands and Jackson streets. About five-sixths of the property owners protested, and the remonstrance was concurred in, and the ordinance will not be drawn.

Chairman Johnson reported that the truck at central station needed about $55 worth of repairs. The committee was empowered to have the work done.

An old deed to some property located by G. H. Morrow in 1870 to the city of Paducah for taxes was referred to the city attorney.

Mr. Ed Morgan asked that a house obstructing an alley leading to his property be removed, in order that he might fill up his lot. The house is occupied by Mrs. Farris, and the house was ordered removed by the proper steps.

The telephone company was allowed the same exemption privileges offered the other corporations on franchise taxes. On motion the council adjourned.

PETITION FOR COLORED MEN.

Washington, April 11.—A petition signed by prominent colored men of Mississippi, South Carolina and Louisiana was today presented to the senate committee on privileges and elections, requesting the committee to extend its report upon a recent senate resolution, particularly to the consideration of the franchise features of the completed constitutions of South Carolina and Mississippi, now in force, and the changes contemplated as called to the fact that the reconstructed constitutions adopted by the states of Mississippi, South Carolina and Louisiana, and ratified by congress, could never be altered or changed so as to abridge the rights of suffrage to any citizens of the United States who was entitled to such enjoyment of suffrage by the terms of the constitutions recognized and approved by the acts of congress. Notwithstanding this express inhibition of change in the constitutions relative to the rights of suffrage, the petitioners assert that such constitutions of Mississippi and South Carolina, and that a similar scheme for disfranchisement of colored voters is now being considered by the constitutional convention of Louisiana.

The great unrest demonstrated by the negro in the last few years, which, unhappily was augmented by murder and incendiarism, has been the means of unifying the race to a very appreciable extent. The disfranchising of negroes in late years is contrary to prosperity, history, making, logic, or rationalism in any degree. It was a step, that, in face of the advancing tide, must have been long weighed and considered. That these spasmodic attempts to thwart the progress of nature or fate is abortive is a foregone conclusion. In the language of McKinley, it is but a chop saw. The great ocean of progress lies undisturbed beneath.

CITY COURT JOTTINGS.

Interesting Session of the Police Court Today—Judge Sanders Again Commends the Cow Ordinance.

Marshal Collins Gets a New Uniform—Judge Campbell as Prosecutor—Other Police Notes of Interest to Readers.

Judge Sanders took occasion this morning to assert that the present stock law was merely a plaything. He had two cases against well-known owners for allowing their stock to run at large inside the city. Both defendants claimed that they knew nothing about their horses being out, and the warrants had to be dismissed. The judge also ventured the opinion that the long lost cow law, was constitutional, and a good law, despite Judge Bishop's decision to the circuit court.

Harry Pike was docketed for malicious cutting, and Guy Randall for being an accessory. The boys had a dispute at Ninth and Clark streets last night, and the Pike boy is charged with slashing James Vance on the hand with a knife furnished by Guy Randall. The boys are said to have been reading cheap novels. The case was set for tomorrow morning. The boys are out on bond.

Grandison Moore, colored, was before the court as prosecutor in the case against Mary Talbot. He swore she used such dreadful language that the court forbade him repeating it so the spectators could hear. The attorneys and two principals gathered at the bench, and the woman left shaking her head in silent remonstrance. She denied it all when called to the stand. It seems that she and the man have been quite good friends, and he broke the news gently to her Saturday that he was also a very good friend to her sister. This made her mad, and she said he could not enjoy the blessings of both. This occasioned the trouble, and the warrant was dismissed. The woman was told to go, and not to harm Grandison.

Then there was George McFall, also of color, and he was charged with mistreating Ida Elder, whose virtue is not of the most desirable kind. He confessed, and when asked why he hit the festive Ida, he said that she would not mind him. No, she was not his wife, he said, but had been living with him since they got out of jail together. It cost him $10 and the trimmings.

John Bell, alias "Jaybird," was acquitted of the charge of using a cotton hook on Berry Hubbard, and released. Hubbard has not been seen since the memorable fray.

James Jordan was fined $1 and costs for drunkenness.

Sam Moore, a one-legged boot-black, was fined $5 and costs for twisting Jim Pryor's arm, and confiscating his cap. It seems the boot-black asked the boy to go and have a guitar pawned. He was refused a pawn ticket, which made Moore mad. He told Pryor to get his head beat off, and the pawnbroker told him he was too young, and that if he didn't get out he would get his head knocked off. This confronted, he could only submit to being decapitated, and he preferred that one of his own color do it. Moore attended to the little duty with more or less success.

Bud Davis, colored, charged with breaking into Mr. F. R. Parham's stable, was before the court, and his case was turned over to the grand jury for its consideration.

Lucy Woodson and Mary Goodwin, of color, were charged with fighting, but the case being unready for trial, they were remanded to the lockup until tomorrow.

Judge James Campbell appeared as prosecuting attorney this morning instead of Mr. Wheeler Campbell, who had to attend to his duties in the circuit court as counsel for the defense in the Frank case. The judge makes a good one.

Marshal James Collins appeared this morning in a new suit of light blue, which is nearly a gray. It is a handsome uniform, different from any of the other uniforms of the police, and when asked where he got it, said that Mark Hanna gave it to him.

The following telegram appeared in yesterday's Louisville Times, dated Frankfort, Ky., in reference to police judge claims:

"State Inspector Lester is this morning writing out a special report, sealing the claims of Police Judges Henry Hines, of Bowling Green; Sanders, of Paducah, and Harrison, of Henderson. The claims are for holding examining courts in felony cases. They will be sealed over one-half."

The above claims are for trials of cases in which two persons were charged with a felony, and there was but one trial of the case. Judge Sanders' statement when shown the above that he had been in contests over similar claims so many times that he had no fear of the above. The claims are trivial, anyhow, and do not amount to a great deal.

Officer Fred Hoyer is now on the river front beat, down at the wharf, to watch the heartless teamsters. His old beat at the Union depot being filled by Market Master Ingram, who formerly had the river front beat after market hours.

The supervisors of the city tax books will finish their work tomorrow and adjourn. Quite a number of raises as well as reductions have been made.

The Little Rock & Memphis railroad will be sold today under foreclosure decree at Little Rock, Ark. The L. & N., Illinois Central, Cotton Belt and Kansas City, Pittsburg & Gulf railroads have all been spoken of as possible purchasers.

FRANK CONVICTED.

Given Three in the Penitentiary By the Circuit Court—Perkins Case Taken Up Next.

Frank Was One of a Gang of Alleged Shoplifters—The Other Cases to Be Tried.

The jury in the case against Sam Frank, charged with shoplifting, returned a verdict this forenoon, after being out for half an hour, at 11:30 o'clock, finding him guilty as charged, and fixing his punishment at 3 years in the penitentiary. This was the first case of the five against what is known as the Frank gang, which is five in number. There are A. L. and Sam Frank, Pete Griffin, J. W. Perkins, and Kid Carroll. They have all been in jail for nearly a year, and Carroll came near escaping once by feigning illness, and being sent to the poor house by the circuit judge at the recommendation of the county physician. He was at the "Y" ready to catch the first train when caught and remanded to jail. The gang is charged with systematic and wholesale stealing from many stores.

The verdict this morning would indicate that the whole gang is doomed, as the evidence is said to be equally as strong in the other cases. The case against J. W. Perkins is now on trial, being called just before noon.

Frank heard the verdict with stolid indifference, and was carried back to jail unaffected by the yawning penitentiary.

Lawrence Carnell waived trial for a breach of the peace and was fined $50 and costs.

The malicious cutting case against Willie Ellithorpe was set for the 17th day of the term.

Mrs. Mary Jane Oty filed suit for divorce against Bedford Oty, alleging cruel treatment. She was formerly Miss Morris, and asks to be restored to the rights of an unmarried woman, and for $1,000 alimony.

John F. Hawkins was excused as a grand juror and T. H. Young substituted. T. J. Eiter and A. Butler were excused from the petit jury and H. C. Renick and S. E. Potter substituted.

The grand jury was loafing a portion of this morning, and the probabilities are today that it will adjourn tomorrow. All the jail cases have been disposed of and there is little left for them to do.

SIS WAS LOADED.

She Pulled a Government License on the Officers.

Was Brought Here From Fulton By the Deputy U. S. Marshal This Morning.

Sis Haynes, a corpulent female of dusky hue, was brought in this morning from Hickman by Deputy U. S. Marshal LaRue on a charge of selling liquor without a license. She had been suspected of such things for some time, but had never been caught before.

She was immediately arraigned before Commissioner Puryear and given a preliminary hearing. The festive female was loaded for Uncle Sam's minions, however, and promptly produced a government license to sell fire water. This was a great surprise, but the officers remanded her to jail just the same, and began looking up the law.

This afternoon an order was issued by Commissioner Puryear, ordering her released, and she was permitted to return to her native land and resume the sale of liquid inspiration to the thirsty denizens of Fulton county.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Chief Woods Has a New Horse. The Truck to Be Repaired.

One of the Old Horses Swapped to Marshall Collins—Shavings Still Burning.

Bids will be advertised for at once to repair the ladder truck at Central Fire station. New wheels will be put on, new axles made, and the ladders will be given a general overhauling. The city hall will soon have to buy a new hose reel, and the following year a new truck, hence it is deemed expedient to now make only necessary repairs. The amount of work done will not exceed $85.

Fire Chief Woods has purchased a new horse. It was bought in Bardwell a day or two ago, and is a young horse of great promise. It is worth about $100, and will be taken to the South Side station. The antiquated gray horse, Harry, that had not been used for some time, has been swapped for the gray mare formerly owned by the late Deputy Jailor Grady, and which cost him his life. Marshall Collins was the owner.

The shaving pile near the Lack single-tree factory, on South Third street, which caught fire last week, is still burning, and the fire department was called there again yesterday to work on it. The rain has partially subdued the flames, but they still continue to eat their way into the shavings.

Chief Woods has several other horses to trade, among them being three from the city power house. They are all good horses, and can be readily exchanged for the kind required at the power house.

FOUND AT LAST.

A Long-Lost Husband Turns Up Near Memphis—Had Been Gone for Months.

A Wife and Mother Shipped to Him Today—He Could Not Speak English.

Mrs. Ziess and her two or three children were today shipped to Memphis.

The unhappy family has been a burden to the city and the charitable institutions all winter, and the cheapest way to get out of supporting them all summer besides was to ship them.

Mrs. Ziess expects to see her husband when she reaches Memphis. There is an interesting story connected with the case. The early part of last winter her husband, who had been working for the railroad company, left for Arizona to make a home for his family. He left them temporarily provided for, but their provisions soon gave out, and they were left without resources, and thrown on the charity of strangers.

It happened that the husband could not speak a word of English, being German. Instead of being carried to his destination, he was imposed on by somebody and carried several hundred miles away from his destination. He was soon stranded, and his wife could not learn a word of his whereabouts.

The Howards, the city and the county all contributed to the destitute family's support. They were cared for during the past winter, and a few days ago heard from husband and father, who was down about Memphis, where he had worked his way.

The family left this afternoon for their new home.
